About us

JTA Australia is a consultancy specialising in community consultation and stakeholder engagement.

We have grown from small beginnings in Brisbane in 1992, to become one of the largest and best regarded consultation specialists in eastern Australia. JTA is still based in Brisbane, but has staff in Townsville, Melbourne, Perth and Sydney.

Our past and present clients include state, federal and local governments, and national and international corporations in many sectors, including oil and gas, mining and construction, energy, transport and finance.

JTA has a sound reputation for delivering successful consultation programs on sensitive issues, and for effectively involving communities and other stakeholders that have been difficult to engage.

We are recognised for our ability to manage the concerns and nuances of rural and regional communities.

Our principles

- integrity and commitment to our clients and their stakeholders
- ethics and professionalism
- transparency, accountability and attention to detail
- respect for each community's needs and issues
- the belief that what we do is important and makes a difference for the client and the community

Our services

- consultation programs that reflect community needs
- issues and risk identification and management
- corporate and community advocacy
- facilitation and mediation
- communication strategies and advice
- stakeholder engagement
- relationship maintenance strategies

We specialise in building and maintaining relationships, adding value through open and credible consultation and communication.

We are skilled, committed and values-driven, and strive for best practice.

Our approach

Each program is tailored to the needs of our client and the often disparate needs of their geographically diverse communities.

Our principle-based planning delivers strategies that effectively involve the 'silent majority', those who prefer to stay on the sidelines.
